customer base is expected to result in higher shipment headwinds that occur earlier in the first quarter. Increased demand across our diverse customer base is expected to result in higher shipment headwinds that occur earlier in the first quarter. Additionally, the absence of seasonal mining is expected to be an additional headwind. The impact of the agreement on our operating performance in the first quarter is expected to be more than offset by higher steel selling prices in the first quarter. We expect to continue to operate in a profitable customer environment as we continue to benefit from the energy markets is facing demand for our business paper and our
